Year 13 Exams – 5th January – 12th January reminder

Dear Parents and Carers,

I hope you are all managing to keep safe during the uncertain times we still find ourselves in.

Just a quick reminder that we have our next round of year 13 exams running from Tuesday 5th January until Tuesday 12th January. All A-level subjects will be running at least one exam during this period and students should have already received their timetables for these exams.

All year 13 students will be on study leave for these exams and their year 13 lessons will restart on Wednesday 13th January. They are more than welcome to come in and use the facilities onsite to revise but if they are coming onsite, they will need to sign in upon arrival.

All the resources the students will need to prepare for these exams can be found on Microsoft teams or on show my homework. If your son/daughter struggles to find the resources needed, they should contact their teacher directly for help.

In addition, we are aware how tough this term has been so we would encourage all of the students to take a few days to relax during the holiday and not spend the whole holiday preparing for these exams.

I hope you all have a lovely holiday period and we look forward to seeing all the students back in January.

If you have any questions, please contact either your child's tutor or myself.

Kind regards

Mr Constable
