

10th October 2021

Dear Parent/Carer,

We are looking at running a trip on the 17th of March 2023 to London for students to attend KS3 Science Live. The event hosts a number of prominent names in science and the day is tailored to meet requirements for the age group.

The event is designed to stimulate and improve scientific literacy by connecting school science to the real world.

The event will focus on adding purpose to your students' studies by showing where hard work in STEM subjects could lead, whether that's future learning, or employment.

The day will be fast moving, thought-provoking and will give students the chance to raise issues with the scientists. The end goal of the day is to improve student enthusiasm in science subjects which we hope will improve their performance in science at school.

If you would like to register your interest in this trip with us then please complete the form by Wednesday 19th October:
