

Doing Drama at Emmbrook will teach you how to devise and rehearse well, perform to a very high standard and analyse and evaluate live theatre you watch effectively. You will also be taught how to design for the stage.

The aim of the course is to give you a wide range of experiences with different types and aspects of drama so that you have a comprehensive understanding of theatre.

Throughout the course you will study:

Year 9

Comedy

Intro to Live Theatre

Basic script performance

How to successfully rehearse

Year 10

Non-naturalistic theatre

Naturalistic performance

A full play

Devising theatre

Year 11

Examination work:

- text performance

- devised performance

- preparing for the exam

What activities will there be?

The majority of the course is taught in the practical form. Lessons are taken in a studio and you will be asked to work in pairs, small groups and large groups to create a variety of pieces of drama. Alongside the performance work, you will be given chance to experiment with stage design, using the department's wide range of equipment. You will explore the work of theatre companies, directors and practitioners and learn to apply these to your work. You will be taught how to imaginatively write about your performance ideas for a published play as well as how you have created your own, original performance work. You will also be taught how to deconstruct live theatre that we will take you to see!

What percentage of the final grade is from coursework?

40% of the overall mark is from coursework.

What about after Key Stage 4? (Careers and College)

Drama at Emmbrook is a perfect route into A-level Theatre Studies that we offer in the sixth form. Both our GCSE and A-Level courses are the AQA exam board and so go very well together. However, Drama is a highly sought after subject in both college and the workplace if A-Levels are not for you.
